

EURASTIP EXCHANGE PROGRAMME

Deadline for application extended: 29 March 2018

Receive up to €3000 to connect with aquaculture experts in Europe and south-east Asia

Maximise existing and new collaborations and strategic partnerships between Europe and south-east Asia in the aquaculture sector with the EURASTIP Exchange Programme. Opportunities are available for industry, researchers and educators from both regions to connect and gain new perspectives while sharing innovative ideas to help develop long term partnerships. Bursaries of up to €3000 are available per exchange (subject to eligibility criteria) to support international innovation and collaboration.

INDUSTRY

- Facilitate new business opportunities and develop industrial partnerships
- Open to all stakeholders related to the sustainable aquaculture industry, from technicians to CEOs
- Exchange duration: minimum five working days

RESEARCHERS

- Share knowledge and research experience
- Open to all researchers from both research institutes and industry, including technicians and senior researchers
- Exchange duration: minimum ten working days

EDUCATORS

- Build capacity, maximise cooperation and develop strategic partnerships
- Open to aquaculture training providers at all levels, from vocational centres to universities
- Exchange duration: minimum ten working days

Visit www.eurastip.eu/exchanges for more information and to apply!

CONTACT

Industry & Research exchanges:

Mieke Eggermont
Ghent University, Belgium
Mieke.eggermont@UGent.be

Educator exchanges:

Marieke Reuver
AquaTT, Ireland
Marieke@aquatt.ie

This project has received funding from the European Union's Horizon 2020 research and innovation programme under Grant Agreement no 728030 (EURASTIP). This output reflects the views only of the author(s), and the European Union cannot be held responsible for any use which may be made of the information contained therein.